

What about Natural Fancy Colored Diamonds!!

Natural Fancy colored diamonds are the world's rarest and the most precious stones on earth. Giving out tremendous sex appeal to all mankind, they are extremely high in value to "just diamonds". NFCDs are ever found-possibly only about one in a million. Therefore, their supply is just an outcry!

Among them red, orange and purple are in the top positions while the blue and green are second, third and so forth the other colors.

As the saying goes "Diamonds are forever and most precious". The popularity of diamonds has been overwhelmed by the medias. This idea was totally defeated by occasions: England football star David Beckham bought his wife Victoria a huge 6 carat pink diamond to celebrate her 30th birthday valued at £1 million (HK$15 million). In 2002, best actress Oscar award winner Halle Berry displayed her 5.54 carat orange diamond adding a touch of class and glamour, Jennifer lopez's 6.1 carat pink diamond ring etc. etc.

We are an international natural colored diamond jewelry company. Our vast experience and knowledge allow us to locate and identify the most precious stones in the world.
